

Cloudiway Announces Update To Migration Product For Microsoft Teams

After almost two years of experience, Cloudiway is evolving its Microsoft Teams migration product launched back in February 2019 by relying on a robust and intuitive solution. It allows you to complete the entire Microsoft Teams migration process, with flexibility and confidence.

Manage the success of your Teams migration

Migration is easy to manage, and the user in charge of the migration can follow the entire process and its progress in real-time from a single interface.

Through this streamlined approach, Cloudiway positions itself as a partner for IT professionals, and MSPs (Managed Service Providers) which must carry out large-scale migrations (from several hundred to thousands of teams).

The expansion of Teams within companies and especially large accounts is a strong trend towards cloud computing and collaboration tools that will continue to develop.

The migration to this environment is, therefore, a strategic operation that must be carried out in order not to restrain employees and allow them to use Teams while preserving their data.
